Pride Month in the UK

Every June, people across the UK celebrate Pride Month. Pride Month is a time to recognise and support LGBTQ+ people (lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, queer, and others). It also remembers the struggles and achievements of those who have worked for equal rights and acceptance.

Pride Month is important because it promotes respect, inclusion, and understanding. It reminds us that everyone deserves to feel safe, valued, and able to be themselves. Celebrating diversity helps create kinder and more welcoming schools and communities.

There are many ways to celebrate Pride Month. Students can learn about LGBTQ+ history, read books by LGBTQ+ authors, attend local Pride events, or take part in school activities that promote equality and inclusion. Wearing rainbow colours and showing support for friends and classmates are also great ways to celebrate.

Pride Month is a chance for everyone to celebrate diversity and help build a world where everyone belongs.

WOW WORK

We are all so impressed to see these photos from Max's holiday. After a lot of training, he is now a fully qualified 'Ocean Diver' after completing 4 dives at a depth of 13.9 meters. During these dives Max was carrying an extra 25kg of weight in equipment and clothing. Well done, Max! We are all so proud of you 😊

DID YOU KNOW?

The ocean is on average about 4,000 metres deep.
